

Trauma-Informed Collaboration: Understanding & Responding to Adverse Experiences

JAN 29TH | 11:30 AM

1 General
Social Work
CEU

Sharon Dunlevy

Sharon Dunlevy is a passionate advocate for the educational success of children in foster care. With a mission to bring systemic change to policies and practices affecting foster youth, she equips foster parents with the knowledge and tools to navigate educational laws, ensuring these children have the support they need to graduate and succeed beyond the system.

ABOUT THIS SESSION

This webinar introduces trauma-informed care principles and how organizations across disciplines can adopt them in a unified approach. Participants will learn how systems can shift from reactive to responsive by embedding trauma-informed values such as safety, trust, peer support, and empowerment into every level of their work. Real-world examples of law enforcement, schools, courts, and service providers collaborating through trauma-informed frameworks will be shared.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Define trauma-informed care and its application across systems.
- Develop shared language and protocols for responding to trauma.
- Address vicarious trauma in frontline workers.

REGISTER NOW

